

Stéphanie specializes in commercial law and commercial litigation. Furthermore, she has a strong interest for IT-law, intellectual property, privacy and data protection.

She graduated from the university of Antwerp in 2021 and already got a taste of what it's like to be a lawyer during several voluntary summer internships. She then pursued a European Master in Law and Economics for which she studied at three different universities in one year.

Stéphanie joined the Antwerp bar in September 2022 and is active within Monard Law since then.
