Nathalie is an ambitious Junior Associate who loves to take a creative and insightful approach to solve problems.

She focuses mostly on the intersection of employment law and public international law.

In 2022, Nathalie obtained her Master of Laws cum laude from KULeuven with dual majors in Belgian private law and public international law. Additionally, in 2023, she completed an LL.M. in Public International Law from the esteemed University of Leiden.

She demonstrated adequacy in legal research, advocacy and teamwork by her participation in the Philip C. Jessup moot court competition. Together with her team, she represented the KULeuven in the world's largest moot court competition on public international law and became Belgium's national champion.

She is a member of the Brussels Bar and has been working at Monard law since September 2023.
